The B'nai Brith of Canada paid tribute to the village of Minden on November 19, at a special breakfast held in Toronto. United Church Minister Ed Moll, left and Times editor Russ Duhaime, right, were honoured for their part in speaking out against John Beattie's July 1 racist rally. Gerry Rose, centre, of the League of Human Rights, made the presentations with Simon Adler.

Two Minden residents honoured for anti-racism

Two Minden residents have been honoured by Canada's Jewish community for the part they played in opposing a racist rally held in the township in July.

United Church Minister Reverend Ed Moll and Times editor Russ Duhaime were guests of honour at the B'nai Brith's annual Covenant Breakfast held in Toronto on November 19.

The theme of this year's breakfast was racism and anti-Semitism and much of the focus of the discussion was placed on the Canada Day Neo-Nazi rally held at the Minden home of former Canadian Nazi Party President John Beattie.

Moll and Duhaime were presented with plaques proclaiming them as "Friends of the League of Human Rights of B'nai Brith Canada."

Moll was honoured for helping to organize a community rally in opposition to the gathering at Beattie's rented property. Duhaime was recognized for the part the newspaper played in publishing and distributing posters which affirmed a belief in human rights regardless of race, religion or ethnic origin, and for his editorial stance against the white supremacists.

At the breakfast a video was shown entitled "Combating Anti-Semitism" which featured news clips of the July 1 racist rally in Minden and the B'nai Brith counterdemonstration which was held in Minden the following day.

The presentations to Duhaime and Moll were made by Simon Adler and (more on page 2)

200 drums pulled from lake

The Ministry of the Environment has pulled the more than 200 steel barrels out of Little Hawk Lake and was found to contain nothing but lake water.

Brian Howden, Senior Environmental Officer out of the ministry office in Gravenhurst, said the steel drums that caused so much alarm when they were discovered a few months ago are believed to be discards from floating docks at a nearby resort.

The drums were first discovered by a group of scuba divers during an outing near the government dock at the south end of Little Hawk Lake. They sent a letter to the ministry, the Toronto Sun and The Times, which in turn sparked concern that someone had dumped truckloads of drums containing toxic materials into the Stanhope Township lake.

The ministry immediately brought in divers to take a look and make a video tape of the (more on page 2)

Reeve offers to drop development projects

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

Minden Reeve Ray Moore has offered to cease his personal development projects in the township if council will agree to disband the Planning Advisory Committee.

Moore's comments were made during a discussion at last Thursday's council meeting about the traffic study which has been proposed by the planning committee.

"The committee is trying to dictate to us and tell council how to operate," said Moore. He asked the councillors to consider abolishing the planning committee and having council assume its responsibilities. "If we (council) are going to take the crap, we might as well take over what's being done," he said.

Deputy-Reeve Bern Berry pointed out some possible problems with disbanding the Planning Advisory Committee and having the work done by council. He said the work would be done by five members instead of the seven who sit on the committee.

If they were considering a development with which Moore was involved and he had to leave the meeting, that would leave only four members. And if it involved councillor Lewis Stevens that would leave three members.

Berry also pointed out that planning committee duties become more time consuming in the summer when two meetings a month are held.

He then defended the current members of the committee. "They are all worthy people. They've done a good job in the past and they're doing a good job now. They're doing the best they can," said Berry.

The members of the committee represent all areas of the municipality, said Berry, and there is a good cross-section of people.

"If I removed myself from all development in Minden, would this make you happy?" Moore asked Berry. At first the Deputy-Reeve declined to answer but when Moore pressed him for a comment Berry said the "council would run better."

It was at that point that Moore suggested a trade-off. He offered to get out of the development business in Minden if council would abolish the planning committee.

Before Moore received an answer to his offer, Stevens steered the discussion back to the topic of the traffic study.

In an interview on Friday, Moore said his offer to council still stands. "I'm a compromising guy," said Moore. "If council is going to take the flack for PAC we might as well make the decisions."

He says that Berry, councillor Bob Sisson and himself all have planning committee experience and the township has excellent planning staff, so there is no reason council can't take over PAC's duties.

Moore says he is quite willing to put his development projects on hold, including the proposed condominium project on Newcastle Street, while he is in office.

Highlands tree adorns Buffalo

The County of Haliburton played an integral part in this year's Canada-U.S. Friendship Tree celebration in Buffalo, says M.P.P. John Eakins.

This year's Christmas tree, which is presented as a goodwill gesture on behalf of the Province of Ontario to Buffalo, came from Tory Hill in Haliburton County.

The 58-foot white spruce was grown on private land in Tory Hill and was recently shipped to Lafayette Square in downtown Buffalo for the annual ceremony.

"This ceremony began five years ago and I was pleased to take part on several occasions representing the Province of Ontario," Eakins says. "The Christmas tree is a symbol of friendship from Ontario to the people of Buffalo and Western New York."

Representing Ontario this year for the ceremony on Friday, November 23 was Ray Haggarty, M.P.P. for the Niagara-South.

Buffalo area school children play a big part in the tree lighting ceremony by creating weather-proof ornaments, singing songs and getting everyone into the Christmas spirit.

"This tree-donating ceremony is the only of its kind between Canada and the United States and I am very proud this year's Christmas tree came from Haliburton County," Eakins said.

area where the drums were located. Last week, the ministry contracted another crew to retrieve the drums from the lake's bottom.

Howden said a mobile laboratory was brought in to examine the contents of all 200 of the drums hauled out of the water. He said the testing showed that the barrels were all empty when the went into the water.

"We determined they were used for dock floatation," said Howden.

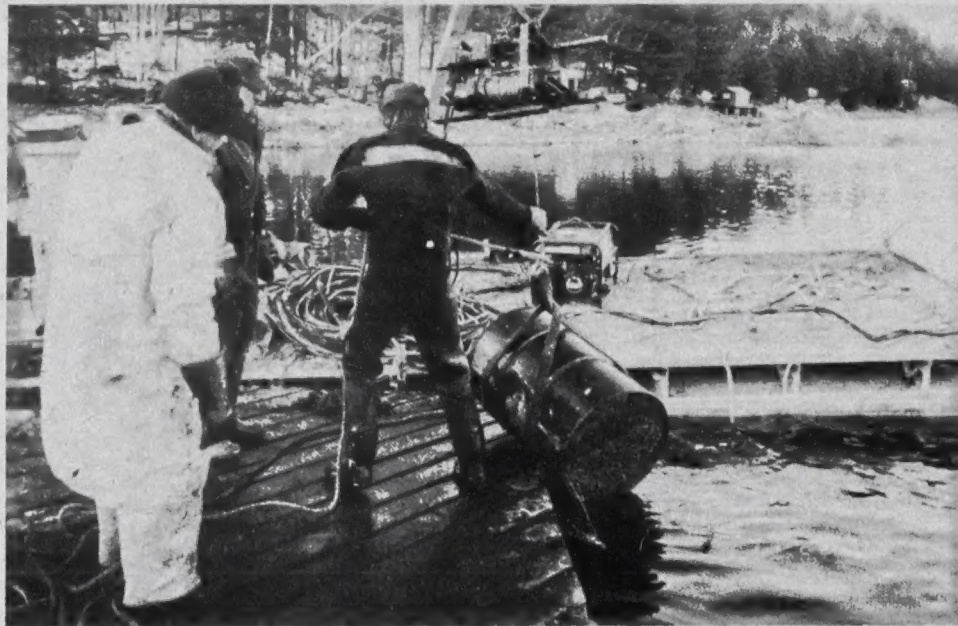

While this eliminates the scare of toxic wastes having been dumped in the lake, Howden says it is still an unacceptable practice to dispose of drums in this fashion.

The use of steel drums to keep docks afloat has been common practice, especially in the Haliburton lakes because their fluctuating levels. As long as the drums are well rinsed out, this is a legal practice. However, Howden discourages it.

The fact that 200 old drums were pulled out of Little Hawk Lake is evidence that the tanks don't hold up well, he said. Other forms of floating docks that are on the market have a longer life span and don't end up littering lake bottoms.

All the drums pulled from Little Hawk Lake have been taken to the Little Hawk Landfill Site. Howden said there is a good chance that many of these will be recycled.

More than 200 steel drums were retrieved from Little Hawk Lake by the Ministry of the Environment last week.

Moll stood up to 'Beattie obscenity: Adler

Gerry Rose who co-chair the Central Region Cabinet of the League for Human Rights.

Moll and Duhaime were greeted with standing ovations by the 600 members of the B'nai Brith who attended the breakfast.

Adler hailed Moll as having contributed to the fight against racism in Canada and for standing up to the "Beattie obscenity."

Rose said The Times set an example for newspapers across Canada and "gave new meaning to freedom of the press by showing how newspapers can press for freedom."

Duhaime thanked the audience for the response and thanked the B'nai Brith for coming to Minden in July and helping to protest the racist actions. He invited the members of the B'nai Brith to a brunch being held in Minden on December 3 at the United Church.

The keynote speaker of the breakfast was Seymour Reich, the President of B'nai Brith International and the Chairman of the Conference of Presidents of Major American Jewish Organizations.

In his address Reich said "the people of Minden were people who stood up to be counted when they had to."

Reich said the 'Yes' posters "said it all" and symbolized the unity of the community.

"We will look back at Minden and say 'yes, the people of Minden could be counted upon,'" he said. "The people of Canada watched proudly as the people of Minden and the B'nai Brith stood up against bigotry."

Mark Sandler, the League of Human Rights' National Chairman, said that "what happened in Minden is being noted and is being reflected upon throughout the world." He called Minden's response to the racist rally "an example of the kind of work that must be done."

In an interview later, Moll said he hadn't expected the magnitude of the reception he and Duhaime received from the B'nai Brith.

Moll said he is "very honoured" and at the time it was hard to grasp the importance of the people who attended the breakfast, but in hindsight, "Wow."

Although he was conscious of using the media to let people know that Minden would not tolerate the racist view espoused by the participant's of Beattie's rally, Moll said he didn't realize how much that message would be appreciated.

Duhaime says he accepts the award on behalf of the newspaper and the community. He said the coverage of this rally was a team effort at The Times.

"With the YES posters we provided the community with a way of demonstrating its opposition," said Duhaime. He said they grabbed hold of the opportunity and sent a clear message that Minden would not stand for racist sentiments.

"If not for the people of Minden, I wouldn't be getting this award," he said.

Moll has organized the Dec. 3 brunch to invite members of the B'nai Brith back to Minden in a more positive atmosphere than having to respond to the Beattie rally.

The idea is to invite members of the B'nai Brith and members of the community to meet and give the people of Minden a chance to learn more about the organization.

Since the July 1 weekend, Beattie has been evicted from his Bobcaygeon Road residence. Although he is still living in the community, he has not organized any other racist demonstrations since he was evicted in September.

Ambulance manager's resignation accepted

The manager of the Haliburton County Ambulance Service has resigned.

Rob Luke's resignation was accepted, with regret, by the municipal council at last Thursday's meeting.

Deputy-Reeve Bern Berry said he wished to underline the statement "with regret." He noted Luke's dedication to the service since the 1970's and said Luke "gave his heart."

"I'll miss him," said Berry.

Traffic study is misunderstood

Minden's Deputy-Reeve says there have been some misinterpretations of the intent of a traffic study of the Main Street proposed by the Planning Advisory Committee.

At last Thursday's council meeting Bern Berry responded to criticism of the study by Minden's Business Improvement Area (BIA).

He said the township may do a study which won't cost a lot of money but may find ways to improve traffic access to the village's downtown business area.

Improvements may come in the form of removing a rock cut, or several other alternative measures, said Berry.

"No one at any time said we're going to try to restrict the amount of traffic coming in and out of town. We just want to make it safer," he said.

The recommendation for the traffic study arose out of the planning committee's consideration of a severance application for a piece of property on Bobcaygeon Road across from the Holiday-Rhodes Medical Clinic.

The committee turned down the application because of concern about the safety of entrances along that stretch of road.

Council sent the study proposal back to the planning committee to further clarify what the study will entail. An ad hoc committee has been struck consisting of Berry, Bill Payne, Bob Sisson and Road Superintendent Clayton Cameron.

The ad hoc committee is supposed to design the parameters of the study and report back to the planning committee.

"Seems like a lot of concern over a very simple matter," said Berry.

Councillor Lewis Stevens said council should find out more about the study, like its cost, before making any final decision.

Cameron said the Ministry of Transportation did a intersection report on the intersection of Highway 35 and Bobcaygeon Road in 1985, and is sending him a copy. The ministry is going to do another similar survey next summer, said Cameron.

An offer you can't refuse

With a show of hands and the stroke of a pen, Minden Council now has the opportunity to wash away two of the main sources of its grief.

Often criticized for his involvement in development projects in the community, Reeve Ray Moore has offered to suspend all of his personal projects in a trade-off for council's support of his wish to disband the Planning Advisory Committee.

Fully realizing that Minden's Planning Advisory Committee is viewed as an unpopular body by many residents of this township, Moore is willing to sacrifice his projects—including his proposal for a large condominium development—until his term in office is up. The offer was made in the heat of another verbal clash with his Deputy Reeve. However, he has since promised to stand by the offer.

Council has to realize that this offer is just too good to refuse. Not only does it get rid of a controversial committee, but it also hushes the growing discontent that residents have about a Reeve who is also a land developer.

The five men who were elected just over a year ago have found themselves in one of the most difficult and challenging terms on council this municipality has ever faced. With rapid development shooting up all around them, a costly arena in need of major repairs, and cut-backs in provincial contributions, they have their hands full trying to keep the municipality's business in order.

On top of all this, they are losing the confidence of the people who elected them, largely because of their internal strife—much of which stems from Moore's development interests and a controversial Planning Advisory Committee.

In spite of the ongoing conflicts at the council table, this council has managed to usher in several positive developments. The new ball diamond, which will be open for play in the spring, is just one example of their accomplishments.

However, if this past year was a councilor's nightmare, the next two years are bound to be overwhelming. In order to address what's in store, council must push aside some of the nagging problems which have dogged it so far.

A show of hands and a stroke of the pen. That's all it will take to eliminate two of their main problems. If they allow this opportunity to pass, it may be a long two years for them and us.

"OH, DRAT! AND I WAS TOLD THE VILLAGE GREEN WOULD BE A PERFECT LANDING STRIP."

Maybe you can fool all the people all the time

"You can fool some of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time."

Abraham Lincoln

Well, maybe things were different in your time, Abe. I live in an age where people line up each week to spend millions of dollars buying lottery tickets—even though their chances of winning are worse than their chances of being struck by lightning.

I live in an age when people voted for a Prime Minister who promised to save passenger trains and cut government spending.

Black 'n White

by Arthur Black

Government spending has never been higher. Passenger trains are all but dead.

We have a cleverer class of over-the-eyes wool-pullers these days, Abe. Maybe in your day you just didn't have enough George Bushes and Brian Mulroneys around to fool all your people.

Bet you didn't have any Michael Watsons or David Tomlinsons either.

Who they? Well, Mister Waterson is director of research for the Advertising Association of England. David Tomlinson is president of the National Firearms Association of Canada.

And I plan to make them my 1989 nominees to the Hoodwinkers Hall of Fame.

Mister Waterson gets my nod for his impressive courtroom performance in a case before the Quebec

Judicial system abused

Note: The following letter is in response to a story that appeared in the Haliburton County Echo.

Editor,

The Echo's decision to publish court news based on hearsay not only violates the tenets of good journalism but abuses a judicial system that is second to none and appears to prejudice a defendant awaiting trial on another charge ("Bus Driver Urges Safety," Nov. 8).

If (Echo Editor) Martha Perkins is unable to attend court in search of balanced stories based on sworn testimony, she should either work from a transcript or forget the idea. As a former court reporter, I could tell at once that Perkins had not left her office. A phone call confirmed that (this) editor had concocted a story from hearsay evidence provided by the chief prosecution witness.

The case involved a truck driver who allegedly passed two stationary school buses. One bus driver told me she had asked the Echo to attend the Minden trial, but was told no reporter was available. She called the paper after the trial. Given over the phone, her unsworn testimony led Perkins to write "A truck driven by (the defendant) passed the buses on the right" and "(the defendant) didn't deny he passed the bus on the right." This after the truck driver had been acquitted of dangerous driving and still faces a lesser charge.

I called the truck driver to see if Perkins had contacted him for his side of the story. I was told she had not. Not only was her account based on sketchy notes of unconfirmed accuracy, she decided to write a one-sided story, to the defendant's disadvantage. All this in the cause of children's safety, a rather recent emotional development for (this) editor who, only the previous week, had all but ignored an incident, fraught with horrendous implications, in which a fog-bound school bus crossed a busy highway, smashed through a guard rail, and plunged down an embankment. Perkins wrote one paragraph amid a grab bag of fog-related stories, omitting mention of a charge against the bus driver, and blamed it all on the fog.

Court reporting is not for amateurs. The publishing of remarks during a voir dire (discussion among counsel and judge in the jury's absence) may well result in a mistrial, a heavy fine for (The Echo) and a jail term for its publisher. If (The Echo's) reporters see fit to "cover" court news from a distance of 25 kilometres, I suggest (the paper) take out more insurance. . . . It should amuse you to know (this) prejudicial "safety" story may help quash that second charge (failing to stop for a school bus). I understand the defendant's lawyer will be using it for just such a purpose and I wish her every success.

Ads are harmless because they don't work

Superior Court last month.

The case is being pressed by two large Canadian tobacco companies — RJR Macdonald and Imperial. They want to overturn the federal ban on cigarette advertising. Which is where Michael Waterson comes in. He assured the court that advertising cigarettes is harmless because it doesn't really work. Mister Waterson testified that in the United Kingdom, consumption of beer, cigarettes and even milk have all declined over the past few years, even though advertising of those products has increased.

"You don't turn on the advertising tap and expect consumers to respond like Pavlov's dogs," explained Waterson.

David Tomlinson's philosophy, albeit in a completely different field, is no less breathtaking. The president of the National Firearms Association of Canada was recently lamenting in public over our government's myopic decision to ban the importation of assault rifles — automatic and semi-automatic weapons designed for soldiers to kill other soldiers — into Canada. "Sucked in again" was Tomlinson's rueful assessment of the Justice Department decision.

"The more firearms control you bring in," opined the NFA prez "the more violent crime occurs." Why? Because, he says, the average Canadian is "helpless and defenseless" at home.

Oh yeah, right. That's why there's so much murder and carnage in places like Regina and Moncton, while bucolic dens of democracy such as Belfast and Beirut are havens of peaceful domesticity.

Just pause for a moment and ponder the fur-brained philosophy these two jokers are attempting to peddle. Michael Waterson would have us believe that cigarette advertising is innocuous because it doesn't work.

Which begs the question: if it doesn't work, why in hell do corporations waste hundreds of millions of dollars a year on advertising campaigns?

Tomlinson's contention is even more outlandish. He's arguing that an absence of murderous weapons — the only purpose of which is to wreak violence on human bodies — will lead to more violence on human bodies.

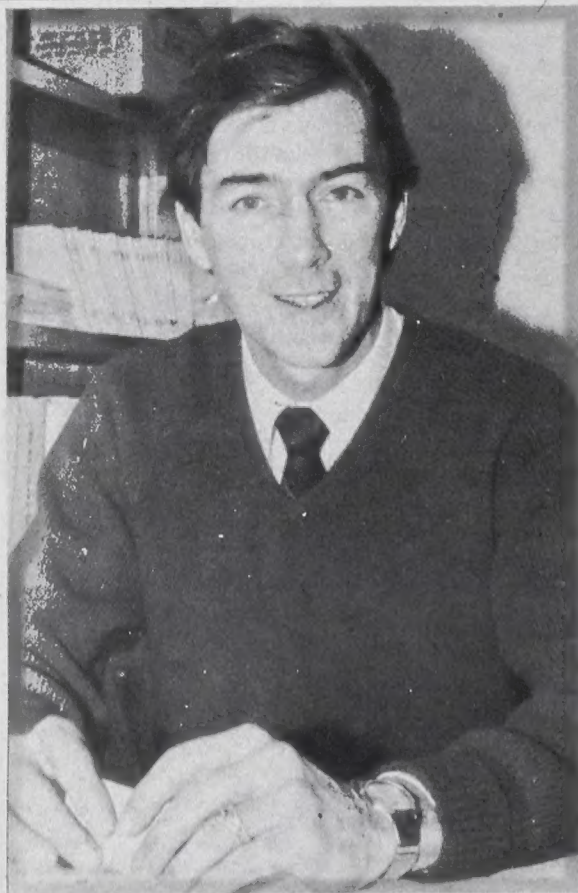

How dumb do these guys think we are? Gentlemen, please.

Go ahead and flog you cancer sticks Mister Waterson. It's not against the law. Keep plugging to make Canada as friendly and pacific as downtown Detroit on a Saturday night, Mister Tomlinson — that's your democratic right.

But if you expect to make converts from anyone but the terminally brain dead, you'll have to be just a wee bit more subtle about it.

Tom Hubercheck is new by-law officer

Anson, Hindon and Minden has a new by-law enforcement officer and chief building official. Council has hired Thomas Hubercheck, a resident of Canarvon, to replace Brad Bradamore who was fired from the job in August.

Hubercheck, 41, and his wife Renee own the Mill Pond Restaurant in Canarvon and moved to the area in September 1988 from Guelph, where Hubercheck worked for the Okon Structures Project Management firm.

He was employed at Okon on a contract basis to create a department within the firm to co-ordinate the projects with sales/architect, architect/project managers and architect/engineers. The department was also responsible for obtaining planning approval, building permits, conservation approval, and approval from Health, Hydro, and Ministry of Transportation.

Hubercheck has been involved in the construction industry since 1972, primarily in design which involved working with architects and engineers. His positions have involved working with municipal planning and building departments across North America.

"Having worked closely with municipalities that have grown quite large over the past 20 years, I feel confident that I will be of some help to our own municipality of Anson, Hindon, and Minden during the development and growth that they are currently enjoying," Hubercheck says in a prepared statement.

A great honour

If I had to do it again, I would. Trouble is, there is always the possibility I may have to do it again - that is WE may have to do it again. I sincerely hope it won't be necessary.

As Russ and I were honoured that Sunday morning, I could not help but think how easy it could have been to do nothing, to say nothing, to ignore the problem. It could have been so easy to yield to the shock of helplessness that a racist rally could actually take place among us. Nevertheless, we did not ignore it, we did not remain silent. It was not so much Russ and I who were thus honoured: it was you, the people of Minden and area.

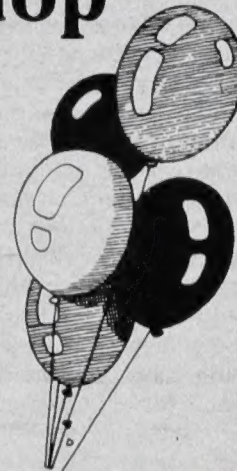

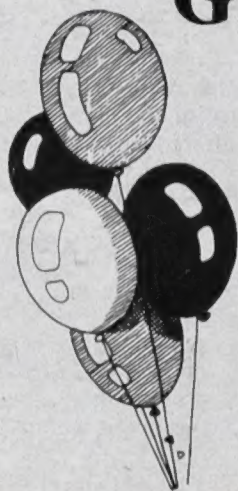

Why make such a big deal of it?, you might wonder. Somebody once wrote, "All that is necessary for evil to prevail is for good people to do nothing." what happened here this summer can be an example to other communities to do something positive should the common feelings of racial superiority organize into a public display of offensive ignorance.

As the speeches, the prayers, and the breakfast ended, we got up from the table and gradually made our way to the door. For the last two hours I, a Christian Gentile had been immersed in a world at once familiar and strange, a world whose roots and traditions went back long before one very special Jew was born. I had the distinct sense of looking at an inheritance I did not know I had, and leaving not quite knowing what to do with all those riches...

My thoughts were broken by the voice of an older Jewish gentleman who was vigorously shaking my hand. With eyes brimming he kept on saying, "Thank you. Thank you and Minden for what you have done." I mumbled a response I could not remember. I felt as if an elder brother had just given me a hug.

Drugs: There is no doubt that this problem exists in Haliburton

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

Haliburton County has a drug problem.

That was the message given by participants of a drug awareness seminar held at the high school last Wednesday.

"Look around you. We've got drugs and we've got drug problems," said Constable Mike Maybee, the Minden OPP officer who organized the seminar in conjunction with Drug Awareness Week.

The panel, consisting of representatives from the police, Crown Attorney's office, the coroner's office, FourCast assessment and referral centre, as well as two addicts and the mother of an addict, discussed the problem of drug addiction and what can be done to fight it.

Maybee began the discussion by defining a drug as "any substance that changes the way we think, the way we feel or the way we behave."

Alcohol, caffeine and pills bought off the shelf in a pharmacy are all examples of drugs, said Maybee.

Drugs can be broken down into three broad groups according to the effect they have on a person.

Stimulants, like amphetamines, caffeine and cocaine, overload the body to the point of "burn-out."

Depressants, like valium, heroin and alcohol, destroy soft tissue in the body.

Hallucinogens, like marijuana, LSD and PCP, alter the brain patterns of the user.

Drug abuse, said Maybee, is using a particular drug to the point where you no longer care what it does to your health, and addiction is when using a drug takes over your life.

The first of the panelists to address the audience was Joe Dorricott, a 15-year veteran of the OPP and for the past five years an undercover officer with the drug enforcement unit in Peterborough.

This year he and his partner have executed 80 search warrants and have seized $250,000 worth of narcotics.

Dorricott says his job has taken him undercover into the homes of drug dealers and "the lifestyle is not a good one. It's not like Miami Vice." Contrary to the popular television show, people who deal in drugs do not all drive Lamborghinis, said Dorricott.

A young person addicted to drugs must either "deal or steal" to maintain his supply of drugs. Dorricott said it may begin by stealing money from Mom's purse or trading off expensive possessions like portable stereos.

Dorricott once lived with a drug dealer in a small town waiting for a shipment of drugs to arrive. While there, he watched 22 high school students visit the premises and witnessed parties that "got pretty wild."

He said cocaine has become a lot more popular in the last few years because the price has gone down and the purity has increased. He said that while cocaine used to be only about 22 per cent pure, it is now becoming available at 94 per cent purity.

When someone who is used to "street blow" (cocaine with about 30 per cent purity) gets some with 94 per cent purity, he will notice quite a difference and it can cause a lot of problems, said Dorricott.

Dealers cut cocaine with all sorts of substances, such as sugar, talc, or pig tranquilizer, in order to increase their profit.

As an example of how drug use can ruin a person's life, Dorricott told the story of a young man who was given control of the family estate when his father suffered a stroke.

In one year he spent $33,000 on drugs. In an attempt to pay off his drug debts, the young man drove to Montreal to try and set up a big drug deal. The plan failed and he was forced to take the train home after the dealers took his father's car from him.

Dorricott said the young man's teeth are falling out and the septum in his nose is rotted from the excessive drug use, but he won't stop using drugs, "probably until he dies."

There have been three drug-related deaths in the area this year said Dorricott, two overdoses and one homicide "It's a bad situation."

Because of limited funds and resources for drug enforcement, Dorricott said the police need the public's help in identifying drug problems. "We need people to tell us what they see."

The next speaker was Lorne Chester, a member of the Crown Attorney's office who prosecutes drug cases in Victoria and Haliburton Counties.

Once the police have done their job, Chester said it's his job to seek reasonable punishment for drug offenders.

If a person is charged with possession or trafficking in a school, Chester said he asks for a jail term "no matter what the age."

He admits a jail term is pretty tough, but says the public is increasingly concerned about the drug problem and is "bringing pressure to bear on the police, the crown and judges."

If a person is caught trafficking in a school, even if he has no prior criminal record, Chester said he will ask for a 60-day jail term.

The hope is, that when word of the consequences filters down, children will learn to stay away from drugs, said Chester.

Many drug myths dispelled during meeting

There are certain misconceptions about the legal rights of a person who is involved in a drug offense which Chester dispelled.

Although many people believe that the term 'trafficking' applies to selling drugs for money, Chester said it actually covers a wide range of activities including manufacturing, giving, sending, and delivering drugs, or offering to do any of the above.

Technically, a person is guilty of trafficking just by offering someone drugs at a party.

Another misconception people have is the belief that police can't search you without a reason.

Chester explained that police can search you if you are charged with any offense, like disturbing the peace. An officer is also allowed to conduct a search if he suspects that a person may be carrying drugs. "They do not necessarily need a formal charge," said Chester.

School principals also have the authority to search their students without obtaining authorization, said Chester.

The third misconception that Chester dealt with involves several people being charged with possession from the same incident.

If three or four people are caught with drugs, often one person will step forward to take responsibility and plead guilty to the possession charge in an attempt to keep his friends out of trouble. But Chester said if four people are caught using drugs, then all four will be prosecuted.

In the jurisdiction of Victoria-Haliburton, a person convicted of possession is fined $150 for the first offense. On subsequent convictions the Crown asks for jail terms.

In cases of possession of cocaine, Chester said if the person can afford to buy the drugs then a monetary penalty will not act as a deterrent. "Jail is sometimes the only answer," he said.

By imposing jail terms Chester said that hopefully young people will "see the light and put me out of business."

Unfortunately, in the short term, Chester said he'll "be doing a lot of business."

'For a lot of years I denied I had a problem even though the problem was right in front of me,' addict says.

Beth Zwecher, a director at the FourCAST Assessment and Referral Centre, introduced the next three speakers who gave the most personal picture of what drug addiction can do to a person's life.

Rick, an alcoholic and drug addict who is on the road to recovery, said his involvement with Narcotics Anonymous and Alcoholics Anonymous saved his life.

"For a lot of years I denied I had a problem, even though the problem was right in front of me," Rick said. Once he faced up to his problem, Rick said he was left trying to figure out what to do about it.

With the help of support groups he said he got his head straight and spent 28 days in a treatment centre to overcome his addictions.

His message to people trying to fight a drug problem is "Get help. You can't do it yourself."

Since his treatment, Rick said he's turned around and is finally living a normal life. "It's great to get a second chance at life I never thought I'd be getting."

"I just want to tell you people there is help," he said.

The next speaker was a young woman named Wendy who is seeking treatment for a cocaine addiction.

Zwecher said when she first met her, Wendy was dressed all in black, wore sunglasses, slumped in her chair and was "downright ornery."

Wendy said she has received no support from her parents during her recovery and said they didn't agree that drug addiction is a disease. She said she comes from a good family and was handed everything she ever wanted.

"My parents think it was their fault I became an addict," she said. She urged parents to be supportive of their children.

Wendy's parents pressured her into her first treatment program and it didn't work. "You can't make someone realize they have a problem," said Wendy, they have to admit they have a problem to themselves. "Some don't make it that far, they die before it happens."

She has been out of her treatment program for just over a month and has had "only one slip up." She said she's proud of her progress and, like Rick, is getting her life back together.

"I don't blame my parents," Wendy said. "I can't blame them for their ignorance."

Valerie told the audience that she has an 18-year-old daughter who is a drug addict and an alcoholic. She reinforced the need for parents to support their children.

She said she drove her daughter away from her by not understanding her problem. With the help of the support organization Al-anon, Valerie says she now understands that her daughter's problems aren't her fault.

Valerie's brother was killed by his best friend in a drug-related murder, and she says that shows "how insane it is."

Zwecher explained that her organization, FourCAST, works with people who wonder if they might have a drug or alcohol problem.

They look at patterns of drug use and abuse and provide information about

President has confidence in new board

The new president of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce is confident that the new board of directors will be able to steer the Chamber through a very productive year for its members.

Lyn Stevens was selected to be this year's Chamber President at a meeting soon after the election and annual meeting at the PineStone Inn earlier this month.

Along with her husband, Bob, Stevens owns the Red Umbrella Inn just off Highway 35 near Carnarvon. She has served as a director on the board of the Chamber for the past year and was one of three to be re-elected at the annual meeting.

"I'm pleased with the board as a whole," said Stevens in an interview last week. She said the directors appear to be a very hard working group. "I think they'll work hard to achieve things this year."

Stevens said she was pleasantly surprised at the willingness of each of the directors to volunteer for the various committees of the Chamber. She, along with Bob Stinson, Shawn Hagerman and Dennis Casey make up the Chamber's Management Committee. Bob Jennings is the chairman of the Marketing and Special Events Committees; Ken Rydman chairs the Membership and Hiring Committees, Craig Saunders chairs the Constitution Committee, Joachim Matyssek chairs the Building Committee, and the Environment Committee; Curtis Eastmure is the liaison with the Nordic Trails Association; Jenny Rendall chairs the Highland Games Committee and Hagerman is the Public

Lyn Stevens, the new president of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce, feels the newly-elected board has the experience and drive to get things done.

Support available for those who want to quit the dangers involved in drugs. If a person decides he has a problem and wants help, FourCAST provides referrals to Alcoholics Anonymous, Narcotics Anonymous and Al-anon.

Zwecher not only deals with people with addictions, but also with the spouses, children and friends of people who have problems.

It's a very confidential service, and for filing purposes people are issued a number so they are not at risk of having other people finding out about their problem.

Zwecher, herself a recovering addict, outlined the four components necessary for recovery.

The first is the person's relationship with herself. She says it's important to have self-esteem and a good self-image.

The second is relationships with other people. People with drug or alcohol problems tend to "hide out" and become isolated from those around them, said Zwecher.

The third is a relationship to the community. Drug addiction takes up all of a person's time and Zwecher said they need to become involved with outside interests.

The fourth step to recovery is a spiritual or religious awakening. Support groups talk about a higher power, because some people are uncomfortable with religion. The label isn't important but the acceptance of something bigger than ourselves is, said Zwecher.

Although people might not think there's a problem in this area, Zwecher said Haliburton County has the second highest per capita alcohol consumption rate in the province.

She presented the audience with results of a study conducted by the Addiction Research Foundation on the rate of drug and alcohol use by high school students. Zwecher applied the statistics to Haliburton, saying that Haliburton had taken part in the Foundation's study so the figures would be accurate.

The report lists the number of students in Grades 7, 9, 11 and 12 who use substances like alcohol, tobacco, cannabis, stimulants, LSD and cocaine.

'I went out of my way to be an addict. It's what I wanted to do and I worked hard at it.'

Alcohol is the most prevalent drug, used by 613 Haliburton students, according to the statistics. Of those 64 are in Grade Seven and 103 in Grade Nine.

Zwecher said alcohol is the only drug that's use doesn't peak in about Grade 11 and level off or decline by Grade 12.

The best thing parents can do when discussing drug and alcohol use with their children is to "look at our own values and talk to them about it." Parents need to examine their own patterns of drug and alcohol use, she said.

The final panelist to address the audience was Dr. John Strathearn, the regional coroner for the Southern Georgian Bay area.

He said he admired people like Rick and Wendy who represent the survivors, but said even they are just one drink or one 'hit' away from giving in to their addictions.

Strathearn recounted the story of Benji Hayward, the 14-year-old Toronto boy who drowned in Lake Ontario after taking LSD and marijuana at a rock concert. Hayward's death prompted a coroner's inquest and Strathearn touched on some of the recommendations which resulted.

He gave a list of some of the symptoms which are apparent in young people who have drug problems. They're marks go down, they become less punctual, they always need money, they have wild mood drinkers, consuming 15-28 drinks a week. Twelve per cent of the students are labelled high risk drinkers and consume more than 28 drinks a week.

And most of this drinking is not spread over the entire week but takes place in one or two nights on the weekends.

The inquest into Richard's death resulted in 18 recommendations being handed down. One of the recommendations was that alcohol abuse information be passed on to students in Grades 9 and 10. Strathearn said that because Richard could still walk after 15 drinks, it showed he had considerable experience with alcohol and probably began drinking quite young.

During the question period, Peter Forgrave, the principal of the high school, asked Wendy and Rick if there was anything anybody could have done to prevent their addictions.

"I don't think so," answered Rick. "I went out of my way to be an addict. It's what I wanted to do and I worked hard at it."

Zwecher said that by considering the four steps to recovery and making sure children have those important relationships to themselves and others, it will help improve their chances of avoiding a drug problem.

In an interview later, Maybee said he was disappointed with the turnout at the seminar. Only about 20 people attended. He said the people who did attend showed a great amount of interest and he thought it went very well.

The same seminar was presented to the Grade 9 and 10 students earlier in the day and Maybee said the response was excellent. He said the students paid attention, listened, and asked questions that had meaning.

New group brings much experience to Chamber

Relations Officer. Hagerman has also been appointed as Treasurer, while Dennis Casey will be the Secretary.

This new group of directors brings a great deal of experience to the chamber, which will be important in shaping a new direction for this business and tourism promotion organisation.

Stevens says it is too soon to say in what direction the chamber may be headed this year. Some ideas have been discussed, but it is too early to say which of these will be accepted by the board.

Stevens has been a Highlands resident for more than six years. Originally from Puslinch Township near Guelph, she and her family moved here when they bought the Red Umbrella Inn.

Originally, they had planned to move to the Kawartha Lakes area, where they had made arrangements to buy a resort, but when that sale fell through, "we came up here and looked around," she said.

For seven months they managed Hart Lodge before finally buying the Red Umbrella from the McAdams.

Over the years, Stevens said they have watched the changing trend in the tourism market. Initially, most of their guests came up for a stay that lasted more than a week, she said. Now, however, the average stay is two or three days.

One of her first tasks as Chamber president was to go on a week-long tour of southern Ontario to make contact with travel agencies that might be willing to arrange bus tours to the Highlands.

Stevens said the trip, arranged by the Central Ontario Travel Association, was a big success, especially for the local resorts that participated. She said most travel agencies were anxious to meet with her and discuss the possibility of coming to the Highlands with bus tours.

"On the whole it was very positive," she said of the effort. The seven resorts and associations that participated, each paid $100.

which covered the costs of the trips. She said this fee is a good investment. It would probably be recovered if just one bus tour had a luncheon at one of the businesses represented, she said.

Immediately after the election, the chamber ran into some problems when all three staff members quit. However, the directors and other volunteers have been able to keep the office up and running while they hire and train new people. The Ministry of Transportation licencing service was restored last Monday, which meant that all services are back in place.

Stevens said she was amazed at all the offers of support from Chamber members during this difficult time. She said there were even people who are not members of the Chamber who came forth and offered their help to keep the office open.

With this evident support from the membership and community, Stevens is confident this will be a productive year for the Chamber.

Shoehorn needed to fit crowd into Barefoot performance

It is encouraging when they have to break out extra chairs prior to the start of the performance.

Such was the case Thursday evening as over 130 patrons converged on the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School auditorium to take in the second performance of the local Little Theatre's presentation of 'Barefoot in the Park'.

No doubt, the appeal of Neil Simon's well known comedy helped draw the crowd. The fact this was the opening of the Little Theatre's tenth season may have also helped boost interest. However, when the lights dimmed and the curtain parted, it was the hard work and engaging performances that convinced the audience they had made the right decision.

The play was directed by Heather Scully and Curtis Eastmure.

A young couple find their week old marriage tested as they struggle to deal with an apartment that is too small, pesky neighbours, a meddling mother-in-law and the energy-sapping six flights of stairs that leads to their brownstone apartment.

In typical Neil Simon fashion, the action weaves from outright pratfalls, to clever twists of plot, to moments of sentimentality that leave the audience

Minden skater Cori Barkwell.

Barkwell 11th in in show

The Eastern Ontario Sectional Competition was held in Brockville from November 16 to 19. The section has 96 clubs that are able to send skaters to this competition. This year Minden had only one skater eligible to participate, who was Cori Barkwell.

Cori competed in the category of Juvenile 'B' Ladies. Because there were so many entries in the category, (over 40) a freeskate run-off was held on Thursday. Those skaters who placed first second or third in their flight (4 flights) would qualify for the competition. Although Cori was up the previous night with the stomach flu, she skated a beautiful program to secure first place in her flight.

On Friday Cori competed in the figures portion of the competition to placetwelfth.

On Saturday Cori placed ninth in the Freeskate Competition which gave her a placing of eleventh overall.

Congratulations on your performance, Cori! Sectionals will be held in Peterborough next year and Minden hopes to have five eligible skaters.

Veterans, rookies combine in Barefoot delighted and sympathetically wishing for a happy ending to the young couple's turmoil.

Falina Pierson, a newcomer to the local stage, took on the daunting task of young wife while veteran Curtis Eastmure played the husband. Both carried the action well, rising and falling with the emotional peaks and valleys the characters traverse.

Debra Dart, the meddling mother-in-law, and John Miller as the upstairs neighbour who intrudes on the life of the newlyweds, both added sparkle to the characterizations. Debra in particular seemed almost at home in her role as the intrusive in-law.

Also included in the cast, in smaller cameo roles, were Doug Brohm as the telephone repair man and Wayne Cooper, who was subbing for Don Lethbridge, as the deliveryman.

If the response Thursday evening was any indication, the Highlands Little Theatre chose the right vehicle to kick off their second decade. It is obvious from the performance the company has grown in depth and ability.

It bodes well for the group's next ten years.

Others involved in the production of Barefoot in the Park include: stage manager Lindsay Coates; assistant stage manager Irene Lubowitz; lighting David Kennedy and Glen Scully; set Gailon Valleau and Lindsay Coates; publicity Glen Carter; house manager Chris Lynd; tickets Dale McConnell; props and effects Eleanor Cooper and Karen Koz; and refreshments Betty Mark.

(With this performance barely behind them, the casting call for their next production, the musical 'How to Succeed in Business without Really Trying' has already gone out. This is a major undertaking that will require a large cast and so familiarization night will be held Thursday, November 30, 7:30 p.m. at Melissa Stephens' Studio, York St., Haliburton. At that time those interested will read through the play, hear the music and discuss the various aspects of the musical. Auditions will follow at a later date. Anyone interested is asked to contact Melissa Stephens at 457-1461.

Novices edged in close play

The Minden Tri-County Novice B team played host to Uxbridge on Saturday, November 18. Although it was a close game, the score wasn't. They were defeated 4-1. Their only goal was scored by Adam Durkin.

On Sunday they travelled to Sunderland with poor road conditions. Excellent goaltending in the Sunderland end kept the score down to 5-1 in our favor.

Hewitt adds two in Huskies victory

A two goal effort by Kyle Hewitt led the Haliburton Huskies midget team to a 3-2 win over Beaverton Tuesday evening in Haliburton.

Hewitt scored once in the second period on a pass from Rob Ackerblade and notched his second goal of the night in the third period. The goal, at 11:49 was an unassisted effort.

The other Haliburton goal as also unassisted, coming of the stick of Pat Casey at the 14:27 mark of Mitch Johnson started things off assisted by Shawn Casey and Stephen Ecclestone. He later added another one assisted by Casey. Ecclestone also added a pair with an assist going to Adam Durkin. Durkin also marked a single goal, assisted by Ecclestone. On the whole, it was a team effort that won them their game.

the opening frame.

Beaverton scored a single at the 4:54 point of the first period and rallied to score another goal with just 2:14 remaining in the game. However, the Huskies managed to hold the visitors back in check to claim the victory.

Hans Fluegel was in net for the Huskies.

The Huskies were assessed 12 minutes in penalties, all minors, while Beaverton picked up eight minutes in the cooler, all minors.

Dollo nets tying goal

A goal by Jaime Dollo four minutes into the final period of a high school hockey game Wednesday night turned a potential loss into a tie for the HHSS Redmen. The goal came three minutes and forty seconds into the final frame.

It was the second come-from-behind goal for the Redmen as they squared off against the Fenelon Falls Falcons in a closely matched game. While both teams traded even goals, it was always the visiting Falcons who took the lead.

Their first goal came at the ten minute mark of the first period, giving them the edge.

Brent Flood evened the scoring at the 12:24 mark of the second period with the assist going to Shawn Perrin

The second Fenelon Falls marker was scored with 4:50 remaining in the period.

Dollo's third period marker was the icing on the cake for the Redmen and secured the tie.

It was a fairly evenly matched game with both teams tiring near the close of the third period. A number of minor penalties were called through the course of the contest, but it was obvious both teams were there to play hockey.

The Redmen head into a two week stretch of away games with a one win, one tie, three loss record. This Wednesday they are in Lindsay to take on I.E. Weldon, while the following Monday they travel to Peterborough to face Adam Scott Secondary School. The Redmen are back on home ice Wednesday, December 6 when they meet Kenner Secondary School of Peterborough.

Atoms finish up busy week

by Corinne Howell

The Minden OMHA Atom team had a busy time this past week with two away games and one home game.

On November 16, the first game was played against Fenelon Falls and proved to be a disappointment for the Minden team.

Fenelon took the game with a 5 to 2 win. Minden goals were scored by Chris Eskelin assisted by Jeff Wray. The second goal was scored by Tommy Bagshaw on an excellent breakaway.

On November 17 Minden were on their way to face Woodville. After a defeat the day before, it was hoped that Minden could raise their spirits enough to come away with a win.

Within the first ten minutes, Woodville scored their first goal. This did not discourage Minden who fought hard to keep the first period at the one goal lead.

The second period proved to be as hard and fast as the first with both teams taking many shots on goal, but it was Woodville who were able to put the puck into the net, first giving them a two-goal lead.

It was time for Minden to put the pressure on which was rewarded when Andrew McKelvey scored Minden's first goal.

Minden seemed to gain new confidence and started the third period with another goal scored by Andrew McKelvey.

Woodville tried hard to score, but Minden's goalie, Justin Rowden, was in top form stopping everything that was shot at him.

The clock was ticking away and both teams stepped the play which led to some exciting action.

Minden could taste victory and were determined to secure their first win of the season, but try as they did, time was ticking away.

With a special incentive, Minden pulled out all the stops and Andrew McKelvey scored a third goal for a hat trick with only 52 seconds left in the game leaving the score at 3 to 2 for Minden.

On November 18 Minden played Ops at home.

The third game of the week started with Ops sneaking a goal in within the first few seconds. This was followed by a second goal shortly after.

Minden needed to pull things together and this was done very nicely by Dennis Woods from Andrew McKelvey as they teamed up to score Minden's first goal.

Ops stepped up the pressure by scoring a third goal, to finish the second period at 3-1 for Ops.

The third period brought a fourth goal for Ops, but Minden made it hard for them to break through again and we were entertained with some good hockey.

The third period saw both teams attacking hard, but it was Minden's turn when Jeff Wray scored on a pass from Andrew McKelvey.

The final score was 4-2 for Ops.

HAT-TRICK

Andrew McKelvey had nothing up his sleeve but a bit of magic as he popped three goals past Fenelon's goalie in a hard fought victory at home.

Tri-County Atoms edge Fenelon in their new shirts

On Monday, November 20 the Minden Atoms Tri County League hosted Fenelon Falls and the boys looked very impressive as they stepped out on the ice in their new shirts, compliments of the Minden Lions Club.

There was a lot of action in this game and the boys were kept busy as Fenelon seemed to have strong determination with them. Goalie Ashley Walker didn't have as much chance this game to get cold as he was called upon several times and is credited with some beautiful saves.

Scoring opened late in the first period where once again, behind his own net, Donald Todd took a pass from Adam Carpenter and weaved his way through the crowd to successfully slip the first one home past Fenelon's huge goalie.

Things rallied back and forth with attempts from both sides until the 7:15 mark of the third when Adam Carpenter claimed an insurance goal with help from Sheamus Donnery and Raymond Ranson. Final score 2 - 0.

Our next few games find us on the road travelling and we won't play home again until December 19 when Haliburton comes over at 7 p.m. See you then.

The Minden Curling Club hosted its first bonspiel of the season on November 18 as eight teams 'shovelled into winter' for the ladies' spiel. Starting the season off in winning fashion was the Minden team of Cheryl Murdoch, Mary Jane Irwin Barb Merchant and Ann Lee. The next bonspiel of this season is scheduled for December 3. This is when all the businesses in town take a break from their busy schedules and go out to the rink for a day of light hearted competition in the Businessmen's Spiel.

Minden Tri-County Novice C's are at it again

Hi, we're back again with another season of Tri-County Novice C action-filled hockey reports.

Saturday, October 28 Minden travelled to Beaverton. Both teams played strong and hard with many shots being made on both nets. The game ended in a 2-2 tie.

Goal made by Minden: #10 - Bill Fountain, unassisted; #4 - Anthony Werdnberg, unassisted.

On Saturday, November 4, Minden hosted Manvers. Both teams played well but Minden did exceptionally well taking the game with a score of 3-1.

Goals made by Minden: #8 - Gary Kernohan, unassisted; #8 - Gary Kernohan, unassisted' #9 -

Paul Daniels, assisted by #16 - Jordan Barclay; and #8 Gary Kernohan, unassisted.

On Saturday, November 18 Minden hosted Ops. Minden tried their best. It was a good game with all players of each team playing their best. But as hard as we tried, we were still defeated by a score of 4-1.

Goals made by Minden: #8 - Gary Kernohan.

On Monday, November 20 Minden travelled to Bobcaygeon and played a fantastic game. Both forward and defence of the teams played hard, but with three men short and 1:14 seconds left in the game, Bobcaygeon's Rodi Haw scored, winning the game 1-0.

Nice try Minden.

Stamp Fuels keeps eating up the competition

Sporting a record of six wins and no losses, Stamp Fuels is eating up all the competition in the Minden Men's Recreational Hockey League.

In the past two weeks, Stamp Fuels has defended its perfect record with two solid wins over Home Hardware and Westside. Tonight's victim is the Rockcliffe.

If Stamp Fuel's steam roller ride over its competitors is to be stopped, someone is going to have to tie Lawrence Lougheed's skate laces together. In last Monday's 11-3 win over Westside, Lougheed scored five times, to overtake The Times' Ivan Ingram as the league's leading scorer.

Putting Lougheed out of the picture may not be enough, though. Even with him out of the picture, teams will have to contend with the scoring abilities of Greg Newell and Craig Crowe. Newell scored four times on Monday to bring his season total to 12. Crowe had a slow night with only one goal, but his season record is 13 goals.

Exon Gravel capped off Monday's win with one goal.

Scoring for Westside was done by Kim Hamilton, Bart Hilhorst and Sid MacKeigen, each with one. Westside is still looking for its first win of the season.

The first game of the night last Monday at the Minden arena saw the Rockcliffe Tavern pull ahead of Hartwick Construction in the standings as they downed their opponent by a 9-5 score.

Dean Hewitt and Murray Beetlestone each scored twice for the Rockcliffe. Singles came from Dave Hartwick, Doug Ray, John Ballantyne, Colin Newell and Andy Schollig.

Hartwick dropped back into fourth place in the standings with this loss. Scoring for this team were Jeff Howe, Ted Vasey, Billy Whittaker, Bern Berry and Larry Sawyer.

Home Hardware held onto second place in the standing, earning their fourth win of the season at The Times' cost.

Scott Hamilton and Barry Shaw each scored twice to lead the way to this 6-3 win. Andy Campbell and Irwin Asbell each added one.

Ivan Ingram scored his 14th and 15th goals of the seasons in this losing effort for The Times. Carl Northey added the third Times goal.

Tonight's action starts at 7 p.m. when Stamp Fuels takes on the Rockcliffe. At 8:30 p.m., Home will take on Westside. And at 10 p.m. Hartwick meets The Times.

Rheta Jones, left, the new administrator at Hyland Crest is getting to know all of the residents and staff. On November 24, she had the chance to chat with Mabel Buttery, who was celebrating her 73rd birthday. Jones started at the home last Monday.

New administrator starts at Hyland Crest

Rheta Jones, the new Administrator of Hyland Crest, is settling into her job at the Home and getting to know many of the residents and staff.

Praising the staff at Hyland Crest, Jones said "the Home has very warm feelings. It's a very comfortable place and the care level is excellent." She said she is pleased to be associated with Hyland Crest.

Jones, who comes from Mississauga, is replacing Gary McKnight as the Administrator. McKnight, who is the County's Chief Administrative Officer, has been filling in as the interim administrator since Dwight Morely left the job several months ago.

With many years of experience in the health care field and eight years at the administrative level, Jones says she is confident she will be able to do a good job for the residents and the community. Her past experience in this field includes six years at Heritage House, originally as the Administrator at the Guelph location and later as the Operations Manager at the Mississauga location. For two years prior to that, she was the Administrator of Woolwich Lodge.

In addition to this administrative experience, Jones has a solid background as a health care worker. She was a Registered Nursing Assistant on the surgical floor of the Guelph General Hospital, the Sheridan Villa Home for the Aged and the Mississauga Hospital.

Jones started at Hyland Crest last Monday and said she was soon impressed with the capable staff. There are many employees who have worked at the Home for a long time and this experience is invaluable, she said. "I found in a short time there is a great sense of devotion from all the employees." She said she can feel that dedication and can see it in the rapport between the staff and residents.

Although she comes here from Mississauga, she is familiar with the county. Since 1971 she has owned a cottage near Dorset, where she has spent many vacations.

Jones is hoping to buy a home in Minden in the near future. She says she wants to live in town so that she can be close to the Home in case of any emergencies.

From stylish hats, suitable for a Caribbean cruise, to warm jackets and coats to chase away the chill of a brisk Canadian winter—it was all displayed during the fashion show at the Minden Community Centre last Thursday evening. In spite of the many other activities going on in the area that evening, there was a large turnout to the show, put on by My Size Fashions in Minden. All proceeds from this show are being donated to the Minden Hospital Fund.

Police help recognized by YWCA

The crime of wife assault is as much of a problem in Haliburton County as it is right across Canada. But thanks to YWCA and tremendous co-operation from police forces in the district, victims have somewhere to turn for shelter, guidance and protection.

The Peterborough YWCA held a police appreciation luncheon last Wednesday at the Pine Ridge in Lutterworth Township. Here representatives of the many police forces that work with the YWCA received awards for their ongoing assistance and understanding.

Sergeant Steve Adam of the Minden Ontario Provincial Police accepted one of these awards from Jude King.

Following the luncheon, guests had the opportunity to view a theatrical production put on by The Company of Sirens. The production, which was a series of skits and songs, was called 'Shelter From Assault.' It provided some insight into how many women view themselves and also revealed some startling statistics about the frequency of wife assault in this province.

During the week of Nov. 6 to 12, officers of the Minden OPP Detachment investigated 71 general occurrences and 13 traffic accidents with three people injured.

ACCIDENTS

Of the five accidents that occurred on Nov 11, three were weather related and two involved deer.

The one accident with injuries happened on County Road 1, south of the Ingoldsby Road. Richard VanNood lost control of his vehicle in slush and the vehicle rolled in the ditch. Shelley VanNood, a passenger in the vehicle, was not injured. Both are from the Haliburton area.

THREATENING

Donald Townsend, 33, of Wilberforce, has been charged with uttering threats. The charge is the result of an investigation where it was found that Townsend had made threats of violence towards individuals.

Townsend will appear in Provincial Court Minden on January 5.

IMPAIRED DRIVERS

Over the past several weeks, Ontario Provincial Police have laid numerous charges for drinking-related driving offences.

On November 11, James Douglas Chatson, 24, of Keswick, was charged with impaired driving and driving with a blood/alcohol level over the legal limit. This charge was the result of an accident.

On Nov. 12, Paul Beattie, 29, of Guelph, was charged with impaired driving and driving with a blood/alcohol level over the legal limit. Alan D Morgan was charged with the same offences after he was involved in a minor traffic accident on Nov. 12.

Bruce Sacheski, 36, of Minden, has been charged with having care and control of a vehicle while impaired and being over the legal limit. This charge was laid after police investigated a complaint early on Nov. 4.

On Oct. 28, Norman Greenfield, 51, of Haliburton, was charged with impaired driving and with being over the legal limit. This charge was laid following a single-car accident on County Road 1 at the Drag River Bridge.

On Oct. 28, Ricky Stamp, 30, of Guilford Township, was charged with impaired driving and refusing to provide a breath sample.

VANDALISM

During the week of Nov. 6 to 12, several occurrences of vandalism were reported. These included broken windows and doors in Haliburton village and soaping of windows in Minden.

A week earlier, vandalism at the Haliburton Sky Slider caused an estimated $5,000 damage. Vandals broke part of the track, damaged the communications building and broke lights. As well as the damage, two signs valued at $250 were stolen.

Santa's on his way to town

For Your Service

by Alan Thompson, Lions Club

Saturday of this week is the big day for the children, as Santa arrives in Minden. The Lions Santa Claus Parade committee along with the Kinsmen, Lewgion and Rotary host this annual event. The Warden of Haliburton County Keith Tallman, Reeve Ray Moore and the Governor of district A-16 Lion Harold Harrison of Mount Albert will be in attendance.

The parade forms up around the old IGA on Bobcaygeon Road. At last count there were 42 entries for the parade. The hour before the parade will be hectic and exciting. At our last meeting all Lions were told to be present. Remember the time 10:30 a.m. The hockey association has been helpful in rescheduling a couple of games.

With the amount of community co-operation this will really be a big day. Unfortunately we were unable to arrange for a band. However, we are more optimistic for next year's parade.

At the Fire Hall after the parade, Santa will greet the children and they will receive a bag of candies from Santa's helpers. The younger children will be having their pictures taken with Santa. The pictures will be ready to be picked up at the Fire Hall and later at Leon's Video on main street. The Lion clown unit will be present adding to the excitement.

There will be a number of floats drawn by horses for which the committee is very thankful. It involves a considerable time to get them ready and they add to the excitement of the parade. One of our members will be present in a four-wheeler with a bucket in case cleanups are needed. Vehicles showing the children's stories will be interesting to see.

The Kinsmen will welcome participants of the Kinmount's first service club is in the final stages of formation and only four more charter members are needed before the new Lions Club is ready to roar.

Bob MacNab, a member of the Minden Lions, has been involved in the formation of this neighbouring club in Kinmount. He said there were 16 members out to a meeting a week ago, which shows a strong interest in this new club. Twenty members are needed for the club to be eligible for its charter.

The Minden Lions are the sponsoring club for their counterparts in Kinmount.

MacNab said the idea to establish a Lions Club in Kinmount was generated by the first Santa Claus Parade, held last year in the village. MacNab said many of the people involved in the organization of that parade felt there was a need for a service club in Kinmount and decided to try to form a Lions Club.

"It's a slow process," said MacNab, "but it looks good. People are starting to come out of the woodwork."

Their next meeting is scheduled for December 5, at 7 p.m. above the library. The Santa Claus parade will run again this year on December 10.

Anyone interested in finding more about the Kinmount Lions should contact Terry Hartin at 488-2055.

Club 35 fundraiser still going strong

The drive to raise funds for an expansion to Club 35 in Stanhope Township got a shot in the arm recently when a donation of $1,000 from the Stanhope Recreation Committee was made. George Tipton, left, made the presentation to club president Murray Daniels prior to a night of cards at the hall. It was plain to see from the number of people in the hall that night that an addition will be well used. The facility was filled to capacity. The target for this fund raising drive is $35,000. This donation brought the total raised to $22,000.

Lottery profits help hospitals.

On the night of the car accident, Bruce was not expected to live. Fortunately, a specially equipped and staffed trauma unit was ready and standing by at a nearby hospital. This special facility helped Bruce beat the odds and he has returned to work.

Helping hospitals is just one way lottery profits are used.

Lottery profits are also used to provide grants in other areas such as helping people with disabilities.

They also help fund sports and recreation, arts and culture, and province-wide charities.

This is how Lottery funds are working for you in your area.

Kid's Korner

by Jean Lacey

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Cottage pollution report shows sewage systems need repairs

Sixty-two per cent of the existing private sewage systems inspected at four Muskoka-Haliburton area lakes in 1988 did not then meet provincial standards, according to a Ministry of the Environment report.

Of 1,073 private sewage systems examined, 423 systems were classed as malfunctioning. These were discharging liquid or solid waste onto the ground, and in a few cases discharging directly into ground or surface waters.

The ministry report found that 234 sewage systems were seriously substandard, but not malfunctioning.

Owners of malfunctioning sewage systems must by law undertake to correct them. The ministry notifies in writing owners of substandard but functioning systems, and advises them to consider upgrading such systems.

The survey area included Brady and Kushlong lakes in the county of Haliburton; Peninsula and Six Mile lakes in the District Municipality of Muskoka.

As of October 1, 1989, 229 malfunctioning systems had been corrected, 129 agreements for corrective work had been signed by owners of malfunctioning private sewage systems, and 65 systems remain uncorrected. The ministry will initiate legal action against owners who refuse to take the appropriate remedial measures.

The ministry survey found an additional 73 private sewage systems unclassified.

"WHERE THE ACTION IS"

Sled Dog Derby program is almost ready

parade with hot drinks etc. in the curling rink.

Minden Lions is part of District A-16 and Lion Harold Harrison is our Governor. He makes a visit to each club during they year as Governor. The morning after his visit, our club held a breakfast for him and then a tour around Minden. We saw the hydro plant and although the weather was cool, there were three kyaks int he water at the White Water Preserve which he enjoyed seeing. Even though Governor Harold was given a dish towel, he said hi will be back for the parade. Mount Albert Santa Parade starts at 11 a.m. so he will have a fast trip.

There are a few hockey tickets available at $10 each. Even though the season has started, you can still win from one of the previous games if your numbers come up. To date, $100 has been won from our section of tickets.

Lions have been busy with the Sled Dog Derby program which is a big event and keeps Minden on the map. The program booklet is larger than last year as we have had very good reception from the local merchants. There will be a lucky draw in the booklet with six prizes donated by local merchants, stores, restaurants, motels and the Lions prize of $200. The Lions Sled Dog Derby committee wishes to thank these people for their generous support.

The Lions share of profit from the food booth we and the Lioness has at the 1989 Ride For Sight weekend anabled us to provide sweaters for one of the local hockey teams. The hockey association presented us with a plaque thanking us which we really appreciate. As we lost this fund raiser we will have to dream up another one. It is to be hoped the few who objet to the Sled Dog Derby being held in Minden are not successful in sending it elsewhere.

At our last meeting we installed three new members, Russ Duhaime, York Marion and Alan Stott. We welcome them and feel they will help and enrich our club.

Lions Christmas Cakes are going fast. Don't miss them. Contact a Lion now.

The Minden Sled Dog Derby committee need volunteers to help them in various ways. Please make a phone call to Val Loughheed at 286-1119 and let her know if you have even a couple of hours to help, January 13 and 14, 1990.

Sewage systems need upgrading

Most unclassified systems require further detailed inspection by ministry supervisors to make a final assessment. Some unclassified systems are on properties which are not in use.

Most cottages in the Muskoka - Haliburton area are serviced by private sewage disposal systems - primarily septic tanks - because no communal system is available. At the same time, glacial till soil and frequent granite rock outcroppings make many lots naturally unsuitable for these systems. Most sites must be modified by the addition of filter material, slope adjustments and drainage alterations.

The survey is part of the ministry's ongoing Cottage Pollution Control program. In 1987 the ministry surveyed private sewage systems in Dorset Community, Big Hawk Lake, Little Hawk Lake, Wolf Lake, Raven Lake, Leech Lake and part of Six Mile Lake.

The ministry found that 64 per cent of private sewage systems did not meet provincial standards prior to the beginning of corrective work. As of October 25, 306 of 426 systems that were malfunctioning in 1987 had been corrected. Ministry staff will ensure that owners correct the remaining 120 malfunctioningsystems.

Launched in 1970, the ministry's inspection program is one of several designed to protect lakes.

IN MEMORIAM

PHILIP FUHR
1920-1989.

You're gone now but you'll never be forgotten. You, so tall and straight and dignified with a roaring, table thumping laugh.

We laughed a lot for you had a keen wit and a sharp sense of humour. You were quick to turn a phrase and had many a good tale.

You always spoke loudly to be sure we could hear, but you needn't have for we always listened intently.

You had knowledge and wisdom; so much knowledge and wisdom no longer to be drawn from like a deep well that no longer contains water.

The children loved you for you showed keen interest and offered encouragement and support. You dealt with each at their own level and they were comfortable with that. You visits were timely, and seemed timed as if you were conscious of not wearing out your welcome. You needn't have worried for your presence brought a peacefulness to otherwise hectic times.

You're gone from us now, gone to a greater place. But we'll meet again sometime for we know where to find you. You'll be by the garden, gazing with wonder at the new growth that you've seen so many times before. We'll all pass an hour together on a lazy afternoon, sitting in the sun while a gentle breeze rustles through the leaves. We'll have tea and you'll sneak a cigarette whilst we pretend not to notice. You'll drift away like you always do leaving us invigorated and wiser, ready to press on.

So thank you, and goodbye, til we meet in the garden; for we shall come there.
